Marketing Quick-Check

28 honest questions to find the leaks in your marketing. Tick the boxes you can confidently answer yes to. Anything left blank is a place to dig deeper — bring this worksheet to a free 30-minute call with us.

1. Positioning & Messaging

- We can name our ideal customer in one sentence.
- Our website headline tells a visitor what we do in under 5 seconds.
- We can list three reasons a customer picks us over the next-best alternative.
- Our brand story is documented and used consistently across channels.
- We have a tested elevator pitch under 30 seconds.
- Pricing rationale is clear (value-based, not just cost-plus).
- We know which one customer segment drives most of our revenue.

2. Acquisition Channels

- We know our top 3 lead sources by volume and by quality.
- Each active channel has a tracked cost-per-lead.
- We have at least one organic channel (SEO, referral, content) that is growing.
- Paid channels have a defined break-even CAC, not just a budget cap.
- We have a testing calendar — not just always-on ads.
- Email / SMS list growth rate is tracked monthly.

3. Funnel Conversion

- Landing page conversion rate is measured and benchmarked.
- Forms have been A/B tested in the last 12 months.
- We follow up with new leads within 24 hours.
- We have a documented nurture sequence for cold leads.
- We measure offer-to-meeting and meeting-to-close ratios.
- We re-engage no-show and lost-deal leads on a schedule.
- Sales and marketing share one definition of a qualified lead.

4. Measurement & Maturity

- We have one dashboard senior leadership actually opens weekly.
- Attribution model is defined (not just last-click).
- We can answer 'what worked best last month?' in under 5 minutes.
- We have a retention / churn metric, not just acquisition.
- Customer lifetime value is calculated by segment.

- We review marketing performance with finance every quarter.
- There is a documented annual marketing plan with budget & KPIs.
- Someone owns marketing analytics specifically.
